

Abstract

In this paper, we prove the existence of mild solutions for an initial value problem for a semilinear differential equation involving the Riemann-Liouville fractional derivative. The technique relies on the concept of measures of noncompactness and Mönch's fixed point theorem