

The increasing quantities of sewage sludge from wastewater treatment plants (WWTP) is a great source of worry especially concerning their impact on the environment. Managing such sludge is the basis for a successful general sanitation scheme.

The present work subject matter is the evaluation of pollutants present in the sewage sludge(SS) recovered from urban wastewater treatment plant of the town of Boumerdes which is treated wastewater from three(03) towns : Boumerdes- Corso- Tidjelabine, Algeria